CONVERSATION STARTERS

These conversation starters are the perfect way to get your kids—even those teenagers—to start talking. You can use them around the dinner table, in the car, before bedtime, at school, or even for family reunions.

Instructions: Print and cut out questions. There's one for each day.

How will our world change in the next 100 years?

What is your favorite meal that mom or dad cooks?

What is your favorite candy bar?

If I gave you a hundred dollars, what would you do with it?

The thing I like best about spending time with dad is ___ because___.

Would you like to be proudest of your accomplishments or your character?

Have you ever had something stolen. How did you feel?

How would you feel if your best friend forgot your birthday?

If possible, would you live year round in your favorite season?

Share one of your goals and tell why it is important to you.

What is something you feel too young to do? Why?

What would you do if you saw someone making fun of someone else?

What do we need more of justice or forgiveness?

Would you rather ride a bike,
ride a horse, or drive a car?

What is something you know for sure?

What kind of books do
you like to read?

What do children know more about than adults?

Someone I really admire is ____ because ____.

If you could only eat three foods for the rest of your life,
what would they be?

How do you feel about yourself
most of the time?
